Federal Grants

Are Looked at

Narrowly Nowadays

All the years I've been in the newspaper business I've plugged editorially for such public works as the development of waterways and the improvement of highways. Now I am beginning to have doubts.

Money for the waterways always came from the federal government. But the highways were financed chiefly by the states. Today both waterways and highways are major expense items of a Washington government that is running up the heaviest peace-time loss in the history of America.

You must have felt some alarm over one item in yesterday's paper—a Washington dispatch reporting that because of the new crisis with Russia the congress has virtually given up hope of cutting expenses in the new fiscal year, which starts July 1.

One reason given in the dispatch was the need to vote an extra 350 million dollars for the armed forces. And that's all right.

But it's got to come off somewhere else.

Yesterday's edition reported in other dispatches that the congress is going to start hearings on a federal highway program to cost 550 million dollars a year.

A paltry 25 millions was trimmed off the waterways bill yesterday, including a 5-million nick for Arkansas.

But we don't seem to be getting anywhere—not in the face of a deficit that is threatening to hit 6 billion dollars a year.

The fact is, Americans are losing their appetite for federal grants regardless of the purpose. For we know by now that very dollar of "free" federal money sent out here is borrowed money—and it's poor patriotism that allows citizens to ask for Washington dollars when the job can be bought and paid for right here at home.

Or, if we can't get it at home we might as well make up our mind we don't need it.

This may be a striking reversal of policy by your correspondent, and a reversal of my past writings will show that I am inconsistent. But events are inconsistent, too. We have a peace, for instance, that is no peace at all. And we might as well face the fact.

If America can't get her running expenses down to her income then it doesn't make much difference whether we keep up our armed forces or not—for a bankrupt government will cave in at home as quickly as a defenseless government is conquered from abroad.

Everyone knows that much of the federal aid program is a financial phoney, anyway—it takes about a dollar in taxes to go 50 cents back from Washington—and this is a good time to be cracking down on the whole "Heaven help me, Washington" idea.

Do I sound sour?

Look at your calendar, brother. This is 1950. The shooting war has been over nearly five years—and nobody yet has put a real axe on the deadwood that war dragged in to the federal machine.

Here's where we start chopping.

Grade Schools Invite Parents to Open House

Sunday, April 30 from 2 to 4 p.m. grade schools in the Hope system will hold openhouse and all parents are invited to visit the schools.

Although there are three different first grades with two sections each and four sections of grades 2-6, visitors will see all units are on the same grade level in originality and individuality to be exhibited. Much of the work shown will be in keeping with spring.

"Arkansas on Parade" on fifth grade level shows children have much knowledge and appreciate their home state. Language arts and social studies to be shown makes the parent realize the importance of teaching fundamentals. The art works includes finger painting, tempera, different varieties of crayon and various other forms. One of the year's main projects has been the building of libraries with interesting books that children enjoy throughout the year.

Since much spare time spent on hobbies visitors will see a varied collection along with museums, scrap books, health and other forms of visual education.

Youth Center to Observe 2nd Birthday

The Bridge That Shook the Mathematical Certainty Out of Engineers Is Rebuilt

By HAL BOYLE

Tacoma, Wash. —(AP)—Galloping Gertie, the greatest shimmy shaker of the 20th century, has a daughter who makes her debut this autumn.

The debutante is expected to be much more stable than her mother, who plumb shook herself to pieces.

Who was Galloping Gertie? Well, the boys with the slink rules all know the answer to that one. They'll never forget her.

Gertie was a bridge—a slender, luscious suspension bridge—that became the victim of what is known as "The Pearl Harbor of American Civil Engineering."

It happened on Nov. 7, 1940, when Gertie was just slightly more than four months old. She spanned the breeze-whipped Tacoma narrows, and some 265,000 cars had passed across her. From the start she had been a very nervous bridge. She quivered like Gilda Gray—or a plucked guitar string—in any steady wind.

But on this stormy November day she vibrated herself apart and collapsed in a multi-million dollar ruin into Puget Sound. A newsman, the last person on the bridge, crawled to safety across the twisting roadway before the structure went down.

The event shook some of the mathematical certainty out of engineering circles. They learned the sad lesson that wind pressure could shake a suspension bridge apart as quickly as too great a weight strain could break it in half. The trouble was no one really knew much about the aerodynamics of bridges.

"It had to happen sometime, and we were just the goats," said Charles E. Andrew, principal engineer of the Washington toll bridge authority.

"There was an instability of design—the bridge was too narrow. When it was being built, it swayed so much some of the riveters actually became seasick."

After it was opened the shimmy antics of Galloping Gertie made her a kind of public entertainment. Thousands drove many miles just for the thrill of going across a bridge that acted like it was a roller coaster.

"Sometimes there were 50 cars lined up waiting to go over," recalled Andrew. "People are funny."

Plans were drawn to strengthen Gertie. But before they could be carried out the storm came—and Gertie wasn't there anymore.

Now she has a $14,000,000 daughter rising in her place, a huskier span that will be the world's third longest suspension bridge. Upon completion this September, and the 5,000-foot new bridge embodies new construction principles.

"We spent three and a half years studying aerodynamic oscillation caused by the wind passing over a fixed object," said Andrew. "We tested models in the wind tunnel—do."

The research disclosed that a steady wind of 40 to 50 miles an hour could cause more vibration damage than 100-mile-an-hour gusts. The new bridge has slotted roadways and deep supporting trusses to equalize or nullify wind pressures.

Work on Gertie the 2nd has been slowed by a fire and an earthquake. But it annoys Andrew greatly to have her referred to as "the jinx bridge." She is wider and stronger than mother, and built in conformance to aerodynamic principles unknown ten years ago. She is constructed to withstand steady winds of 125 miles an hour, and the highest wind ever recorded across the straits is only about 24.

It was a 45-mile-an-hour wind that collapsed Gertie the first—and Andrew is certain Gertie's daughter will never meet that. When anyone asks how long she'll last, he says confidently:

"She'll last longer than you will."

Reorganization of Cub Pack 90 Planned Tonight

Reorganization of Cub Pack 90 will be planned tonight at 7:30 in the Education building of First Baptist church, it was announced today by Frank Cockrill, field executive. All parents of boys between the ages of 8 and 10 are invited.

Two Americans Are Slain in West Java

Jakarta, U. S. I., April 28 —(AP)—A Yale professor and an American correspondent were slain yesterday in West Java—the apparent victims of a murderous gang whose motives could not be determined.

The two were Prof. Raymond Kennedy, 43, of Yale university, a noted sociologist known to his students as "Jungle Jim" because of his urge to explore remote places, and Robert Doyle, 30, a native of Chicago who worked for Time and Life magazines out of Hong Kong.

A spokesman for the American Embassy said the two were killed on a paved highway near Tomo. This is in a beautiful mountainous area where fanatical guerrilla bands were active during the Dutch-Indonesian warfare. There was an indication the bodies may have been mutilated.

The road has been considered safe for daytime travel in recent months but most foreigners do not venture along it at night. The road winds through tea and rubber estates and rice paddies thickly populated with natives.

The two left Jakarta Wednesday for Jogjakarta, capital of the Indonesian republic. They spent the night in Bandoeng, and hoped to make Jogjakarta by last night.

There was no official account of what happened. Radio Jogjakarta quoted its Bangoeng correspondent as saying the men were halted in their jeep at noon yesterday by a gang of four or five men in uniform.

The dispatch said Doyle and Kennedy were taken to a clearing in a forest and shot. Villagers were compelled to bury them and the gang made their getaway toward Cheribon in a sedan they had seized on the highway.

The frightened villagers reported to Indonesian soldiers, who dug up the bodies.

Methodists of Blevins Plan to Rebuild

The pastor of the Blevins Methodist Church has announced that on Sunday, April 30, following the 11 o'clock worship service, the church is to go into conference for the purpose of accepting or rejecting the plans and specifications of the proposed building project.

(2) of selecting by ballot the site for this proposed new building. All members of the church are urged to be present for this meeting.

All Hope Beauty shops will start closing all day Wednesday during the summer months, it was announced today. The first closing day will be May 3. The public is urged to cooperate by making appointment on other week days operators may be given a day off.

Chives, an onion-like green, may be raised the year round in flower pots just like any other house plant.

The average cost of a television station is around $400,000.

U. S. Considers Future Action in 'Baltic Incident'

Washington, April 28 —(AP)— The question of what an American airplane should do if it became involved in another "Baltic incident" appears to be under discussion at both the state and defense departments.

In that first incident, an American navy plane assertedly was shot down by Russian fighters over the Baltic seas. President Truman was asked at this news conference yesterday whether, in another such case, the U. S. plane would shoot back.

Mr. Truman replied that the state department is handling that matter.

State department officials maintained silence on the issue, but this is the kind of a problem which normally requires close consultation between state and defense officials. The Baltic incident occurred April 8 when the unarmed navy Privateer plane was lost with its crew of 10. The Russians said that on that day an American bomber invaded Latvian territory, fired on some Russian fighters and that one of them returned the fire.

Mr. Truman had little to say on the international situation. He did tell questioners that he still favors extension of the draft law and that he approved in advance a statement by Secretary of Defense Johnson that the "force of events"—including the Baltic incident—warrants an increase in defense spending.

Johnson used those words in successfully asking the house appropriations committee to approve $350,000,000 more for the defense budget, mostly for new planes.

Mr. Truman announced he is naming Stanley Woodward, chief of protocol at the state department, to be ambassador to Canada.

Republican Adviser John Foster Dulles was reported today to be urging in the high councils of the department that the United States develop quickly a vigorous action program to recapture the initiative in the cold war with Russia.

Rose Caravan to Visit Hope Saturday

Tomorrow morning at 10:45 one of the Rose Festival princesses and members of her royal court will visit Hope for the purpose of creating interest in the annual rose festival to be held in Little Rock on Friday, May 5. The people of Little Rock will have some special gifts to be passed out to our citizens and have extended an invitation to all of Hope's citizens to be in front of the First National bank building at this time.

The motor caravan will be met on the outskirts of Hope by representatives of the city government and the chamber of commerce and escorted by police from that point to the corner of 2nd and Main.

There are seven princesses competing for the title of Queen of the Rose Festival and each princess will make a tour of part of the state tomorrow. The people of Little Rock expect 200,000 visitors during the festival, at which time Dick Powell and his wife, June Allyson, will be present to formally crown the queen.

It is hoped that many Hope citizens will be on hand to welcome our visitors tomorrow and help convince them of the friendliness of our city.

Truck Schedule for Citywide Cleanup Week

The President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Tom Fulton, announced today that the trash hauling trucks for Cleanup Week would meet at the City Hall next Monday morning at 8 o'clock to begin their clean-up campaign. The trucks will work in Ward One on Monday and Tuesday. They will move to Ward Two on Wednesday and Thursday. Wards Three and Four will be handled Friday and Saturday. Jim LaGrossa, chairman of the committee, urged all housewives to help by placing all trash on the curb or in the front yard. The National Guard has donated one truck and two trucks have been obtained from the City. The project is being handled jointly by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the City of Hope and the service is free.

Art Moon, Vice President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, asked that the trucks and drivers be on hand promptly Monday morning so that pictures could be taken before the work starts.

Lively Family Awarded $12,000 in Settlement; Middlebrooks Land Case Also Settled

Two important cases were settled in Hempstead Circuit court here yesterday with Judge Dexter Bush presiding.

In four separate suits resulting from a car wreck in which a 3-year-old child was killed the family of Dewey Lively, Crossroads community, settled without trial for a total of $12,000. The defendants were the R. H. Davis Construction company and William R. Coley of Mineral Springs.

The City of Hope's condemnation suit for right-of-way property owned by Miss Lillie Middlebrooks also came to an agreement without trial. Miss Middlebrooks had filed a counter-suit protesting the seizure.

In the settlement the city obtained a strip of land 300 feet long by 5 1/2 feet wide for a sum of $400. In its suit the city asked for a 15-foot strip of an appraised value of $1,200. The land agreed on will enable the city to widen 12th street from Main to Walnut to 27 feet.

The Lively family was riding with Cecil T. Wallace when their automobile collided with a gravel truck December 5, 1949. The accident resulted in the death of Mr. Wallace and John Lewis Lively, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Lively.

The truck, driven by William R. Coley, was engaged in hauling gravel to Highway No. 4, which is in process of being paved by the Davis Construction company of Stamps.

The four following suits and the settlement amounts resulted:

No. 2338, Virginia Lively awarded $422, Dewey Lively $78.

No. 2339, Dewey Lively $500 and Virginia Lively $500.

No. 2340, Dewey Lively $3,500 and Robert Edward Lively $1,500.

No. 2341, Dewey Lively $5,500.

In other actions the court authorized Standard Auto company to sell several Nash automobiles involved in suits arising from the now defunct Powell-Nash Motor company. The vehicles have been in storage. The action resulted from an agreement by all parties concerned.

Police Seize 40 Cases of Liquor Here

The Hope Police Department early today seized nearly 40 cases of liquor believed enroute to Oklahoma and arrested a Ft. Smith, Arkansas man listed as H. L. Castleberry.

Officers said the whiskey was purchased in Louisiana. It was being transported in a Ford tudor which was equipped with overload springs. The back seat was removed and the liquor was packed to glass level from the trunk to the front seats.

Officers Pedron and Burke made the arrest near the high school about 12:45 a.m. The liquor will be turned over to the State Department of revenue. The driver of the car posted $25 cash bond.

A second car was believed to have escaped as the invoice Castleberry had covered more than the amount of liquor seized.

Waterworks Bill Pleases State Lawmen

Washington, April 28 —(AP)— Prospects for an improved navigation channel on the Ouachita river through Louisiana and Arkansas are looking up.

Congress has all but completed action on a waterways bill providing a $21,300,000 authorization for work on the Ouachita and about $1,700,000,000 for projects elsewhere.

Senator McClellan (D-Ark) was responsible for amending the bill in the senate to include a $36,950,000 authorization for a project to provide a nine-foot channel on the Ouachita.

When the bill went to a house-senate conference, the house members balked at authorizing the full amount for the Ouachita. The authorization was trimmed to $21,300,000. The project in its entirety was approved, however.

The report must now be approved by the house and senate.

McClellan and Reps. Harri (D-Ark) and Passman (D-La) sponsors of the project, told a reporter today they were pleased at the report.

The Ouachita authorization is broken down this way, staff members of the senate public works committee said:

For the Degray multiple-purpose reservoir on the Caddo river, flood wall $70,000; for levees at Bawcomville, La., $280,000; levees, channel work and lock repairs, channel work to improve the existing 6.1 foot channel $50,000; channel improvement on Bayou Bartholomew flood control work on H. B. Harding drain at near Pine Bluff, and channel improvements on deep bay and overflow creek $1,500,000.

The eliminated portion of the authorization would have provided $500,000 for Murfreesboro reservoir on a muddy fork of the Little Mississippi river and $13,150,000 for nine-foot canalization work.

McClellan, Harris and Passman all said the reduction was of no great importance right now since the authorizations provided would take care of work which must be done first. They said the authorization could be increased later for the nine-foot channel.

None of the work can be begun, however, until congress votes necessary funds. An authorization bill does not include actual money. Harris said improvement of the 6.1-foot channel would help stimulate large traffic on the river until the nine-foot channel is completed. The deeper channel is to extend upstream as far as Camden, Ark.

Navigation on the Ouachita virtually ceased during the war when equipment was moved elsewhere. The channel became clogged at some points but has since been cleared to permit a resumption of traffic.

The recently coined word "simulcast" means that a program is broadcast on radio and television at the same time or simultaneously.

Congress Likes Idea of a UN Without Russia

Washington, April 28 —(AP)— Herbert Hoover's proposal that the United Nations be organized without Communists, a striking popular note today among Democratic and Republican lawmakers.

The former President's proposal in a New York speech last week against a "united front" with the U. N. revamped to exclude Russia and her satellites.

While Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the senate foreign relations committee declined public comment, Senator George (D-Ga) appeared to be reflecting wide spread Democratic sentiment when he said he regards such a move as "inevitable."

"Ultimately we will have to come to that," George told a reporter. "I have felt such a move is inevitable since Russia demonstrated that she will not keep her agreements."

"If the United Nations had been organized it is difficult to see how it can continue with any strong promise of success."

Senator Hickenloper (R-Okla) another member of the foreign relations group, said the present stalemate should cause congress to give "profound and immediate consideration to Hoover's suggestion."

"Russia has approached from every angle, interests of peace and security, to block every effort to attain it," he said. "While it would be desirable for all of the nations to cooperate in the U. N., Russia's continual obstruction prevents free nations from going ahead."

New York, April 28 —(AP)— Former President Herbert Hoover says "the United Nations should be reorganized without the Communist nations in it."

America's only living ex-president outlined his vision of a new international setup last night in an address before the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' association.

Hoover said the United Nations is coming "more and more isolated as the sole contender in this cold war" and is "steadily losing its ground" to Russian proposals for new United Nations, and his address was frequently interrupted by applause. The 1,800 persons present stood, shouted and whistled for nearly a minute both before and after the address. At some, it recalled the great ovation given to Mr. Hoover—emerging from years of comparative obscurity—at the 1948 Republican national convention.

Another prominent Republican, John Foster Dulles, said last night that the time has arrived to begin work on possible revisions on the United Nations charter.

Chicago Seeks 'Fair Deal' for Visitors

Chicago, April 28 The Chicago crime commission, watchdog of the city's morals, is demanding a fair deal for Chicago's visiting good-time Charleys.

The commission, called for cleanup of North Clark street joints after two out of town business men rebelled against a piggy bank—and thereby got the lumps.

Honky-tonk sections make a special bid for out of town trade, but don't know where to go. Sound trucks, lit up like a Christmas tree, tour the loop districts at night advertising the featured attractions a some night clubs. Drivers are urged—with promise of a cash bonus—to steer clear of some of these spots.

(The cornet is a blare, lights, a strip-tease show and a tinny music).

On the night of April 12, two in Chicago for a meeting of the Bendix Corp. went to the Elmer Casino night club at 641 N. Clark st. The men, Robert G. Bendix, 37, of North Hollywood, Calif., and John McManus, 35, of Old Greenwich, Conn., ended up in a hospital. They told police this story.

They had eight drinks and handed a bill for $28.25. They planned without avail and asked for a receipt. Instead, were forced to pay and leave. They were jumped from rear by three men and taken to a taxi and asked the driver to take them to the nearest police station. Although the Chicago police station was a short distance away, the driver took them to a station south of the city.

The commission, which includes a license and a license. Assault charges were filed against Irving Warshawsky, a Chicago resident, and two other men, Harry Rosen and Harry Field, 40, of Chicago.

Members of the auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will sell Buddy Poppies in downtown Hope Saturday. These poppies are made by disabled veterans and is the only way they have to take care of themselves and their families.

Residents of Hope and visitors are urged to buy a poppy today when contacted by an auxiliary saleslady. Mayor Lyle Browne has issued a proclamation designating Saturday as Poppy Day in Hope.

2 More Called by Communist Probers

Washington, April 28 —(AP)— Senate communist investigators are trying to get at the truth in the stormy Owen-Lattimore case—summoned two more witnesses to public hearing today.

Called to the stand under subpoena were Frederick Vanderbilt Field and Freda Utley — both named at the inquiry as persons who regarded Lattimore as a communist or a Red sympathizer.

Today's session followed a new Senate speech by Senator McGarvey (R-Wis.), author of the committee's government charges against Lattimore, who is being investigated by a Senate foreign relations subcommittee.

French Fire Communist Atom Chief

Paris, April 28 —(AP)—The French government decided today to fire Joliot-Curie, the communist scientist, as chief of France's atomic energy commission.

Center and right wing leaders and newspapers have been demanding such action ever since Joliot-Curie told the 12th national congress of the French Communist party early this month that "Communist scientists will never contribute to the development of their science in a war against the Soviet Union."

This was assailed by the non-communist press as a sentiment which would disqualify Joliot-Curie from holding such a vital position. "Socialist newspapers also attacked the scientist's statements at the time, although they did not specifically demand his ouster."

But cabinet chief Premier Georges Bidault reached the decision in a session this morning.

The 30-year-old scientist, a Nobel prize winner in chemistry in 1935, was appointed in 1946 by Gen. Charles De Gaulle, then president, to head the French atomic energy commission.

Since that time Joliot-Curie's name frequently has been associated with Communist activities. Last year he attended the Moscow meeting of the pro-Soviet peace partisans, which spearheaded a Communist-blessed world peace congress. Shortly thereafter he visited Moscow.

Says Local Groups Can Oust Gambling

Washington, April 28 —(AP)— Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) said today that testimony by Frank Costello proves that "local officials can eliminate gambling any time they make up their minds to do it."

The Indiana senator spoke out as a senate commerce subcommittee called in Frank Erickson of New York — who has been described as a bigtime gambler — to testify about bookmaking operations in the United States.

The senate group is studying a bill designed to ban the movement of gambling information across state lines. City and state officials have testified such a measure would be a big help in controlling race horse bookmaking and organized gambling.

Capehart told reporters he thinks such legislation could help local law enforcement agencies. "If they are in a mood to be helped. But, he said, "it would do little if any good where local officials operate as they have in the past."

As an example, he pointed to testimony the committee got yesterday from the ex-bookie Frank Costello. The Italian-born New Yorker swore he washed his hands years ago of bookmaking and slot machines, and that he is now strictly a legitimate businessman, despite testimony by some city officials and others that he is a big man in gambling circles.

But he said he had opened up slot machine operations in the middle thirties in New Orleans at the invitation of a Louisiana public official. Costello didn't name the official, but Police Chief Edward J. Allen, Jr., of Youngstown, Ohio, had told the committee earlier: "I think Huey Long took him into Louisiana."

Long once was governor of Louisiana and later a senator from that state.

"Costello proved," Capehart said, "that gamblers can operate openly only with the approval of law enforcement officials. If they don't have protection, they can't operate."

House Delays Economy Campaign

Washington, April 28 —(AP)— The house today laid aside its fining economy drive for five days to permit many members to see the sights in New York, or go home to vote in primaries.

Not until next Wednesday will it resume debate on proposals to change a $29,000,000,000 appropriation bill financing more than 40 agencies for the fiscal year 1951.

Today, Monday and Tuesday were set aside for "general debate" on the big bill, with a gentleman's agreement that there will be no voting.

About 120 members have accepted invitations to take part in an annual pilgrimage to New York for three days as the guests of the metropolis, but with the members paying $30 each to cover costs of transportation, lodgings, meals and entertainment.

The New York trip won't cost the federal taxpayers anything except the loss of the services of absent members.

Alabama, Florida, Indiana and Ohio members have nominating primaries Tuesday and traditional congressional courtesy excused them until Wednesday.

Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) is chairman of the arrangements committee for the New York trip.

One of Van Zandt's worries is how to distribute 18 tickets for "South Pacific" among 120 people. He also had 61 tickets for "Kiss Me Kate" and "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

But the losers will be cut in on a sightseeing trip which will take in such points of interest as the Metropolitan police line-up, Cyn Island and United Nations headquarters.

The house worked late yesterday to clear the decks for a week-end of relaxation.

Senate Turns Down Aid to Franco Spain

Washington, April 28 —(AP)— The senate, having again rejected an attempt to put Spain in the European recovery program, turned today to proposals to cut down foreign aid spending.

"I think we can lick 'em," Senator Connally (D-Tex.) told a reporter shortly after the senate voted the Spanish turn-down, 42 to 35, yesterday.

As chairman of the foreign relations committee, Connally is plugging for the full $3,372,450,000 in the aid bill.

He said his main worry now is getting the senate to settle down and agree on a time for a final vote.

Attempts by Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois to get a vote Monday, and by Republican Leader Wherry of Nebraska on Thursday of next week, have been blocked.

FBI Breaks Up Riots by Students

New York, April 28 —(AP)— The FBI aided police today in breaking up reported secret student strategy as a fourth day of city-wide rioting and demonstrating for teacher pay increases threatened.

The FBI passed on to police an anonymous tip that students planned to decoy authorities away from city hall today while a separate group "too the hall."

The unidentified informant said late last night that he overheard teenagers discussing the "coup" plans in a restaurant.

Police prepared to throw 100 patrolmen and 25 mounted men around city hall. A major detail will be posted at Gracie mansion, home of Mayor William O'Dwyer. Police throughout the city were put on a special alert to watch schools.

Riots have broken out as a peak of 30,000 students cut classes and swarmed through streets, subways and buildings. Large groups have tried — noisily but in vain — to reach O'Dwyer and press their demands that teachers get higher pay.

The new city budget includes salary increases of $150 and $250 respectively, for all elementary and high school teachers. Teachers' organizations had asked for a $650 across-the-board salary boost.

In protest against the smaller increase, teachers have refused to take part in extra-curricular activities such as chaperoning proms and athletic events, causing cancellation of those affairs.

Roving bands of boys and girls up to 10,000-strong rioted or demonstrated through the city yesterday, chanting "pay our teachers."

The worst outbreak was around city hall, and in nearby Foley square — a cluster of federal, state and local government buildings.

Police, on foot and on horseback, drove the students first from the city hall and then from the square.

Bi-partisan Plan Endorsed by Truman

Washington, April 27 —(AP)— President Truman today endorsed wholeheartedly a plan to set up eight senate foreign relations subcommittees to help bring about "a free bi-partisan" foreign policy.

Mr. Truman said in a statement he hopes the house foreign affairs committee will follow the proposed senate pattern to help provide for a "free interchange" between the state department and congress.

The President's statement was issued after he held a White House conference with Secretary of State Acheson and Chairman Connally (D-Texas) of the senate foreign relations committee.

Connally is author of the plan to set up eight subcommittees which would correspond with the organizational structure of the state department.

Distant Star

Copyright 1950 by Hermina Black. Dist. by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Clemency Norton had not intended to fall in love when she went to live with Jon and Sybil Amherley in North Africa. She was governess to their small daughter, Baba. The Amherleys live with Jon's brother Piers who, with Piers, Clemency asks him: "Must you be tormented? Are there no ways of escape?" To which Piers answers: "I am beginning to wonder if there might not be a way."

MADNESS to let herself believe something which might be only born of wishful thinking, Clemency told herself.

But sane or mad, there was a new surging happiness in her—a hope of which she had never before had even a glimmer when an hour later, the car finally stopped in the drive before Red Alocs.

They had driven back chased by a little moaning wind, and clouds that had blacked out the stars behind them.

Helping her out, Piers said: "Wait downstairs for me, will you? I shall just drive round to the garage—I want to speak to Jules."

She nodded, unable to trust her voice. Then Ahmed who was always on duty, opened the door and as the car drove away she entered the hall, glancing at her watch.

It was not so very late after all. Only half past 10. Clemency thought: I'll run up and see if Baba is all right, and come down again. To come down again because Piers had asked her to wait for him seemed quite natural.

She was walking quickly across the hall when someone came out through the arched doorway of the salon. Thinking with a pang of dismay that it was Jon, she glanced over her shoulder. Then she stopped abruptly, one foot already on the bottom stair, realizing that the person who was looking across the hall at her with ment and threw him out.

But he says he hasn't changed any of his lifetime thinking. So, although no longer permitted to be a member of the party, he apparently continues to think as a Communist.

Then Browder was called from his chair to appear before the senate subcommittee which is investigating the charges by Senator McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, that the state department is loaded with Communists.

If he had seemed nervous before, he didn't seem nervous when he began to talk. He was composed and at times even angry which, he said in effect, were none of the committee's business.

Maybe that was in Browder's mind when he thrust aside questions he disliked. Or, maybe Browder just had disdain for the whole proceedings which at one point he called a "silly mess." At least, he looked bored as time went on.

Browder was called in because of testimony given the committee a week ago by Louis Budenz. Budenz is about Browder's age and had been a party member from 1933 until 1945.

For five of those years he had edited the party's newspaper, the Daily Worker, while Browder was his boss. Then in 1945 Budenz quit the party.

Budenz had told the committee that Owen Lattimore, a writer on Far Eastern affairs and an occasional consultant of the state department was a Communist. How did Budenz know that?

Well, he didn't know it first hand. But he said a number of Communists had told him so. (Lattimore has denied this.) And Budenz said he had heard Earl

Chrysler Strike Talks Resumed

Detroit, April 28 —(AP)— After a night's rest negotiators in the Chrysler strike resumed their task today.

It was the 19th consecutive day of talks and the 94th day of the strike of 89,000 CIO Auto Workers.

The negotiators, each day now setting a record for successive days of work, haven't had a holiday since Easter Sunday.

Yesterday's session, which followed upon a previous 20 1-hour meeting, was recessed after nine hours.

Reports from the private bargaining room indicate that relatively minor issues stand in the way of a settlement.

But as a group they add up to a major stumbling block.

According to informal advice, the scrap over $100 monthly pensions (including social security) was long since ironed out in principle.

Chrysler has agreed to fund the plan. The union has been willing to drop its demand for a specific cents-an-hour contribution from the company.

This is where one of the reported minor issues comes in. They offer the pension to men of 65 years of age after 25 years of age after 25 years of work. Retirement then would be voluntary.

Those three intervening years are reported to stack up as a problem.

The union is said to be insisting that a worker be allowed to accumulate time toward a full pension if he is short on such time at age 65.

Arresting officers quoted Tufts as saying "I'll have your job for this."

At age 68 it would be compulsory.

was sent to the showers after the eighth inning. Among the barrage of hits were two homers, one by Bill Wilson in the second and the second by Don Wheeler.
Mobile Rookie Marion Fricano, winning his third game against no defeats outdusted the veteran Bobo Newsum. Both went the route, each allowing six hits. But the Bears grouped two with a walk in the sixth for their two runs.
The Atlanta Crackers won their third straight at the expense of Little Rock, as Carl Lindquist limited the celler-dwelling Travelers to six hits. His teammates reached Little Rock hurler Al LaMacchia for 1 and relief hurler Fred Bates for more.
Country Brown and Ed Matthews smacked home runs for Atlanta.
Friday night's games:
Little Rock at Atlanta.
Chattanooga at Mobile.
Memphis at Birmingham.
Nashville at New Orleans.

DOROTHY DIX

Love

Dear Miss Dix: How can love survive the changes of time? What strengthens and fosters love?

EDNA
Answer: Infatuation cannot survive the changes of time because it depends upon so many fleeting things that after almost with the day and hour and because it is mostly founded on illusion.

But true love is of another quality. It is made of sterner stuff, and when a heart really and truly sets its affections upon another it is proof against all the vicissitudes of time and change. Even disillusion and disappointment do not kill it, for we have seen time and again the miracle of love that withstands ill-treatment, ingratitude, even treachery, and still lives on.

Strengthens With Years
In happier circumstances, where love really has something to feed upon, it grows and strengthens with the years and sends its roots deeper down and the winds of chance and change beat upon it in vain.

Love changes, of course. The old husband and wife do not love each other for the same things they did when they married as girl and boy. Then they loved each other for their youth and good looks or their high spirits and gaiety. They loved each other for the physical attraction that drew them together. But when they are old they love each other for their characters, for the fineness they have found in each other, for the sacrifice and tenderness that each has given the other.

The things that strengthen and foster love are unselfishness, faith and loyalty. Time has no power to weaken these.

De ar Miss Dix: My daughter is 23, smart, attractive and ambitious, but she says she does not want to marry. She has had many friends, but when they find out her ideas they seem to disappear. She says she can be happy as she is. Maybe she can, but wouldn't any parent worry about her future. It is all very well to preach waiting for the right man, but a girl who develops such ideas of independence may even pass up the right one and regret it too late. A well-educated, good business man has transferred his affections from her elsewhere. He was about fifteen years older than she, but I think she regrets her decision and tries to hide it by telling me of the girls she knows who never married and how content they are. We are the kind of parents who do not interfere with our children's happiness or plans, but I wonder if we are right in not interfering a little more for their own good.

FATHER
Answer: I think it is a wicked thing for parents to try to persuade a girl into marrying a man merely because he can provide her with a comfortable home. There is so much more to marriage than just being fed and clothed and having a roof over your head.

In former days when marriage was the only respectable occupation open to women by which they could support themselves a girl had to marry for a living, and her parents were within their rights when they used every endeavor to get their daughters married safely off as soon as they could. But now any intelligent, industrious girl can make her own living and make a useful and interesting life for herself outside of marriage.

Of course, no one will deny that a happy marriage is the happiest estate on earth for a woman, but unless she can find the man she loves and the one who is congenial to her she is a thousand times better off single than married.

Dear Miss Dix: Is it advisable for a young couple to get married on a salary that will allow both the necessities of life but not the luxuries? We are both old enough to know our own minds and that we really and truly love each other.

TROUBLED
Answer: I say go on and get married while you are still young and ardent. Marriage is a business as well as a sentimental partnership and to be successful it has to have an adequate working capital, but this does not need to be much. Money does not insure success in marriage.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a woman 38 years of age, interested in a man of 40. We have lived in the same city all our lives and although he gives me to understand I am the only one, he has never mentioned marriage. He has taken me to places of entertainment since we were young, but we are always accompanied by his mothers and sisters.

Now there is a man in my office who likes me and wants to call on me. Would you let him come and leave the other man to his mother and sisters?

D. B.
Answer: By all means accept the attentions of the other man. If that doesn't make your silent sweetheart speak, nothing will, and it will give you at least the advantage of knowing where you stand and what you can depend upon.

No Hold On Man
To a woman there is nothing more aggravating than the peevish romance that begins in her high-school days and runs endlessly on through the years without leading to the altar. They are never actually engaged. The woman, has no real hold upon the man, nothing definite to look forward to, yet he has absorbed her youth and kept other men away from her and narrowed her matrimonial chances down to him or nothing.

The man doesn't intend to do the girl an injustice. He doesn't realize he is being selfish. In the back of his head is the vague idea that sometime he will marry her, but he feels that there is no hurry about it, it is something he can do when he gets good and ready, and in the meantime the situation is most satisfactory to him.

It doesn't even occur to the man that the girl is wasting her youth and the freshness thereof, and eating out of her heart longing for the home and the husband and the children that belong to her.

There is only one thing to do in such a case, and that is to jolt the slothful lover awake. The woman has become a habit with the man of which he cannot break himself, and she must break it either by going away and letting him realize how much he misses her and how necessary she is to his happiness, or else by setting up a rival and scaring him to death about losing her.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Please tell me how to bring up my children so that they can get along with people. I realize its importance because I don't know how to do it myself.

PRUDENCE
Answer: The art of getting along with people is something that children should be associated with other children at the earliest possible moment. Children reared by themselves are nearly always shy, suppressed, selfish, antisocial, get queer ways and lack the ability to adapt themselves to others.

If schools taught nothing else but human adjustment, they would still be invaluable. For a child learns from its schoolmates what no adult can teach it. It gets its ego deflated. It has the angles in its disposition knocked off. It learns to give and take. It learns to play fair and be a good sport.

A mother can help teach her children how to get along with other people by making them share their toys with other youngsters even while they are in the nursery, and by respecting the rights of other babies. She can teach them not to be little bullies who run over all the other children. She can teach a boy sportsmanship; if the other children play his game he must play theirs, and he must not boast when he wins or whines when he loses. And she can breed in him good manners and graciousness of speech and behavior until they are just as much a part of him as his hair or his eyes.

But the main part in the education of every child is how to get along with others must come with daily contact with his fellow creatures. He must run with the pack instead of being a lone wolf.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a girl of 17 and am to be married in June. I feel that I am too young to marry, especially as my health is very poor. My fiancé refuses to wait any longer. He says that I have put him off too many times already. What shall I do?

BOBBY
Answer: No girl of 17 is old enough to get married. She is unformed in mind and character and doesn't know what sort of husband she is going to want when she is grown up. And of this goes

Cool Spell to Linger Until End of Month

The late-April cool spell over the central part of the country appeared ready to linger on until the month's end.

More sub-freezing weather covered most all of the north central area again today. Daytime temperatures in many areas, the U. S. weather bureau said, were equivalent of normal readings in early March. Today's low marks included 18 above at Grand Forks, N. D.

The freezing line extended from the Western Plains northeastward into northern Illinois, northern Indiana and lower Michigan. Chicago's low was 30 above.

A developing storm center in the central Rockies caused snow and rain over most of Wyoming and western Nebraska and South Dakota and the northern parts of Colorado and Utah. Some snow fell in the Lake Superior region.

Rain fell from the Middle Atlantic states northward into the New England region and cooler weather was headed for the areas.

Fair weather was reported in the southwest while there were thunderstorms in the Gulf States northward to the Ohio Valley. The weather was warm over the southwest, with temperatures in the 90's in parts of Texas and Arizona yesterday.

Cave-in of Cotton Seed Hulls Kills Man

Little Rock, April 28 — (AP)—A cave-in of a huge pile of cottonseed hulls caused the death of one man here yesterday. A companion escaped.

Arthur Douglas Archer, 21, of England, Ark., died of suffocation before he could be rescued.

Ulysses Robertson, 25, a Negro, of Little Rock, was entombed up to his neck. He suffered from shock, but apparently wasn't otherwise injured.

The men were employees of the Southern Cotton Oil Mill here. They were at work dynamiting the pile of hardened hulls in the plant's storage yard so the hulls could be moved by power shovels. They had fired one charge. As they prepared to fire another, the slide occurred.
